Prior to making your cargo insurance decision, SecureGlobal Logistics Inc would like you to read the following information which summarized the liability limitations which are standard in the transportation industry and your option to insure your goods.

• Indirect Air Carrier’s Legal Liability

The Warsaw Convention governs the limits of liability for international carriers. An international air carrier’s liability for damage or loss of cargo is limited to $9.07 per lb. (or $20.00 per kilo) of the cargo’s gross weight. When moving your goods on a No Value Declared (NVD) or Value Declared for Carriage (VDC) basis you are NOT PURCHASING ANY TYPE OF INSURANCE COVERAGE for loss or damage to your goods. You are simply accepting or increasing the dollar amount of the carrier’s liability. This will not increase the things for which the carrier is liable.

When a loss occurs on a NVD or VDC basis, it is ONLY recoverable if you can prove that the loss was a direct result of the carrier’s negligence. Therefore, when loss results from other causes (e.g. natural disaster, robbery), there would be no recovery under NVD or VDC.

• NVOCC Legal Liability

The Hague/COGSA Act governs the limits of Liability for Non-Vessel Operating Common Carriers like SecureGlobal Logistics COGSA (The Carriage of Goods by Sea Act) limits vessel owner’s liability to $500 per shipping unit.

Similar to Indirect Air Carrier’s Legal Liability, NVOCC liability is NOT INSURANCE COVERAGE FOR YOU. You still must provide proof the loss was a direct result of the carrier’s negligence in order to recover a loss. Therefore, when loss results from other causes (i.e. natural disaster, robbery), there would be no recovery. Also, if you declare a value on the bill of lading you are only increasing the dollar amount of the carrier’s liability, not the things the carrier is liable for.

• Warehouseman/Motor Carriers Liability

The responsibility of warehouseman is that of reasonable care and diligence as required by law. However, warehouseman are not responsible for loss or damage due to acts of God and may also not be liable for other occurrences such as fire. To protect your financial interest against these and other losses for which the warehouseman is not responsible, you should purchase All-Risk insurance.

Although the truckers standard of care is higher than that of other commercial bailees, you may not be able to recover the full amount of an incurred loss. For example, YOU MAY NOT BE ABLE TO RECOVER A LOSS which exceeds the minimum liability coverage the trucker carries if the loss is a result of one of five common law defenses, such as an act of God.

• Insurance

The best way to protect your financial interests in your cargo is to insure with All-Risk. This relieves you of financial exposure from physical loss or damage to your goods in transit. It basically insures the cargo against all risks of physical loss or damage from external causes subject to specific policy terms, conditions and exclusions. This coverage applies to both ocean and air shipments.
